

A Daughters Love On Mothers Day!!!

My mother's love, I cherish so deep,
For she is the one, who made me complete.

At this time, I can no longer share,
My mothers love, for she's no longer here.
I cant pick up the phone, to hear her sweet voice
Or to suddenly open in laughter, or some kind of noise.

I can no longer feel the beat of her heart,
When I rest my crying eyes, close to her heart.
For it no longer beats, the same as before.
For she is with my heavenly father,
Whom I love even more.

So, I know she is where she is happiest now,
Crying on my fathers shoulders,
For me, when I cry out.

I have so many mother's, here, right now,
They all come in different forms.
Grandmothers, Sister, Aunts, Friends, and more.

Each one holds a different part of my heart,
For so many reasons, I can't even start.
God put you in my life, for one reason for sure,

My mother is gone, now my heart is yours.

I love you Mom!!!
